

God's Beauty

*K.S. Bhinder

*The moon for a home delivery
Early in morn touched the dusky floor,
And glazed my cottage so silvery
I was illumined at my very door
From the full moon I took a kiss sweet
What for a spiritual was given,
The 'Lady in white' on its last beat
Gave me a message from heaven
In pin-drop silence of waning night
The soulful moon so wondrous did pour,
And silvered earth a mirror so bright
'God's beauty rained from each of its lunar pore.*
