I am not an American Sikh.
I am not an Indian Sikh.
I am, I am just a Sikh.
No matter where I live
No matter where I earn my living.

As a Sikh I respect all
As a Sikh every Nation is equal
As a Sikh every human is Equal.

I will help the needy
I will feed the hungry
I will fight for justice.

All my principles
All my ways of living
come from one source
And one source only:
My Guru.

I am not bound by physical boundaries.
I am not bound by culture, caste, or creed
I am not bound by a country.

I am bound by my promise to my Guru
I am bound by the sacrifice of my Guru
I am bound by my universal principle of life.

I owe my allegiance
I owe my loyalty
I owe my priority
I owe my life -
To my Guru.

I am not an American Sikh
I am not an Indian Sikh
I am not a Canadian Sikh
I am, I am just a Sikh
A Sikh of my Guru.

I will fight for no country
I will fight for no politics
I will fight for no leader.

I fight against no man
I fight against no race
I fight against no faith.

I will fight for my Guru
I will fight for justice
I will fight against the oppressor.

I pray for the betterment of whole world
I pray to the only one Essence - the only one Truth
I pray for all.

I am a peacemaker and
I am a warrior
I am a Sikh, a Sikh, a Sikh

Honesty is my clothing
Sincerity is my being
Wisdom is my essence
I am not 'I'
I am, I am a Sikh - to be of my Guru.
