

SGGS: A Universal Celebration

S.J.S. Pall*

* V-239, Rajouri Garden, New Delhi. 110027. Email: gurpreetspall@yahoo.com

That moment in history was unique,
When the Tenth Master gave his commadment;
To appoint a successor in Word Divine,
A never-thought of Prophet of a different beant.
A Prophet true in all times, like God,
Who would always show us the righteous path,
Who could solve all our problems in life,
When honestly approached with a pure heart.
It sings in thirty-one ragas, the spiritual wisdom of Ages,
The divine words of thirty six blessed souls enshrined therein.
It dispels all our fear and satisfies queries that arise,
Happy or sad, whatever be the state of mind.
The Guru Scripture of the whole Mankind,
Provide bliss and peace to all alike,
The Nectar Word Divinely inspired,
At every step is an unfailing Guide.
The Third Centenary of that historic moment,
Is a peerless occasion for one and all,
Let us all celebrate it in a spirit to follow its message,
That takes us to spiritual heights, never to fall.
To rise above vices and weakness of existence,
Ever remember the Supreme, and obey His call.
Love all His creatures, Do noble deeds,
Pray for the Divine Grace and welfare of all.

