Isn't it strange:

How Rs. 20/ seems like such a large amount when you donate it to temple, but such a small amount when you go shopping?

Isn't it strange:

How two hours seem so long when you're at place of worship, and how short they seem when you're watching a movie?

Isn't it strange:

That you can't find a word to say when you're praying, but you have no trouble thinking what to talk about with a friend?

Isn't it strange:

How difficult - and boring - it is to read one chapter of the Granth/Bible/Quran/Gita but how easy it is to read 100 pages of a popular novel?

Isn't it strange:

How everyone wants front-row-tickets to concerts or games, but they do whatever is possible to sit at the law row in a holy place?

Isn't it strange.....

How we need to know about a Gurdwara event a fortnight before the day so we can include it in our agenda, but we can adjust it for other events in the last minute?

Isn't it strange:

How difficult it is to learn a fact about God to share it with others, but how easy it is to learn, understand, extend and repeat gossip?

Isn't it strange:

How we believe everything that magazines and newspapers say, but we question the words in the holy books?

Isn't it strange:

How everyone wants a place in heaven, but they don't want to believe, do or say anything to get there?

Isn't it strange:

How we send jokes in e-mails and they are forwarded right away, but when we are going to send message about God, we think about it twice before we share it with others?
