

Blessed are Children - for they shall inherit Gurmat!

I found something interesting at a Gurdwara Sahib, and wanted to share it with you all. Some days back, I noticed a Gursikh Veer distributing candies to kids outside Jorha ghar. I saw there was a message written on each candy (pls. find picture attached).

It read :

“God’s Gift! Thank God for everything He gives you” and the same in Hindi too. What a simple yet practical way of doing Prachar!

“Jan Nanak Dhoor Mange Tis Gursikh ki, jo aap jape Awreh Naam Japave”

It reminded me of Baba Farid’s mother, who gave her young son incentive in the form of (jaggery) , so that he could do his Namaz!

JAGMINDER SINGH

Email: jagminder.singh@tdigroup.net

Appreciation

Sir, Your editorial in The Sikh Review issue of April 2010 is simply wonderful. My highest compliments to you for your intensive search and your recollection - in quoting other authors. May Waheguru grant you greater energy to continue this good work!

BHUPINDER SINGH WALIA

Former United Nations Consultant

Email:walia_bhupinder_singh@yahoo.co.in

* * * * *

Swami Vivekananda’s Tribute to Guru Gobind Singh

I was thrilled to read the tribute of the great savant Swami Vivekananda to Sri Guru Gobind Singh Ji (SR: April 2010).

I had read a similar episode, maybe 50 years ago, in India. In my mind the episode was described that while Swami Ji was strolling on the roof, one of his disciple asked him, “Guru Gobind Singh Ji has stated that SWA LAAKH SE..... Is it true?” Swami Ji went silent for a while, then said,“Guru Gobind Singh Ji not just uttered it, He even demonstrated it too.”

I have been searching the “Kali Bari Temple – in USA - Library Here” for getting the exact reference, but have not succeeded so far.

JASBIR SINGH SETHI

16410 Bluff Springs Drive

Houston, Texas, USA. 77095

Email: jssethi@sbec.com