

As You Sing and Pass

*K.S. Bhinder

 House No. 208/R Model Town, Hoshiarpur. Punjab.*

Hearing on TV Gurbani songs so sweet
Whose very sweetness is hard to beat,
And without rain for that matter
My heart became all water! water!
I come outside it starts to rain
And like grass my verse sprouts again,
So sudden in God's love all green
Quivers and waves pulsates so keen
My verse grows not on an old tomb
Nor gets stuck like hair in a comb,
In Punjab I'm special blade of grass
So lyrical which saints know for a class.
O read the small praising verse so wet inch by inch that God never forgets,
O then bless it a low like grass
Would touch your feet as you sing and pass!

The Five Kakkars

Late Sri Singh Sahib Harbhajan Singh Yogiji

The Five K's of the Rehit
Are inspirational:
Divine Image of the hero Saint.
Kesh
- Divine flag of the Infinite
Kirpan
- The sign of Shakti
Kara
- Breaker of attachments
Symbol of High Destiny
Kachera
- Shows righteous use of seed.
The essence of inner bliss
Kanga
- Cuts all the Soul's karma away.
Through these beautiful gifts of Gobind Singh
Our Life Force ever blossoms.
And the Great Akal is our Defender.
